PACK HUNT ENJOYED

Final Contest of Series Held at Dawsonville.

WEATHER NOT FAVORABLE

But Seventy-Two Dogs Are Kept Out All the Morning.

COUPLE OF FOXES STARTED

Cash Prize and Silver Cup Awarded to John C. Bentley and Edmund C. Davis.

Special Correspondence of The Star.
ROCKVILLE, Md., November 26, 1910.
Although a high wind prevailed, and conditions for a chase were anything but favorable, the pack hunt, the final event of the three-day field trials of the Montgomery County Foxhunting Association, took place at Dawsonville today, according to program.
Seventy-two dogs, or nine packs of eight dogs each, participated, and while good running was out of the question, the hounds were kept out from 7 o'clock this morning until early afternoon. Two foxes were started, and several short-lived chases were enjoyed, but as it was apparent that there was no possibility of a fox being "run in" or killed, the hounds were shortly after called off and the meet declared ended.
The judges decided that the pack entered jointly by John C. Bentley of Sandy Spring and Edmund C. Davis of Rockville had made the best showing, and its owners were awarded the cash prize, amounting to three-fourths of the entry fees, and the silver cup donated by Col. George Dunn, U. S. A., of Washington.

Mr. Moore's Pack Second.

Clarence Moore's pack was placed second and awarded one-fourth of the entry fees and a red ribbon, and the pack entered by Richard F. Spates of Poolesville was given third place and the silver medal and yellow ribbon which went with it. Others having dogs in the contest were Andrew J. Cummings, who, however, withdrew them early in the contest; George Edwards, Howard Marlowe, James P. Gott, Charles A. Clagett, Cecil Althut, Clay B. Edwards, Richard Lea and Wilson Johnson.
To determine the winner of the medal offered by the Washington Kennel Club for the dog possessing the best conformation, color and beauty, a bench show was held today, and the judges unanimously decided in favor of Walker, belonging to George Edwards of Cotesville.
In spite of poor trailing conditions yesterday and today, the meet was regarded as a great success, and there is not much doubt that the Dawsonville neighborhood, where foxes are plentiful and the country well suited to the sport, will be selected for the meet it has already been decided to hold next fall.
The huntsmen, especially those from a distance, expressed themselves as delighted with the treatment accorded them by the people of Dawsonville and vicinity. They were shown every courtesy, the people of the community entered into the spirit of the occasion and the meet was overlooked to make the three days thoroughly enjoyable to all.
Nearly all of the antmen left for their homes this afternoon.

Wins Derby Prize.

In a field of twenty-five high-class young hounds first honors in the Derby, the big event of yesterday's field trials, went to Lady Bug, belonging to Andrew J. Cummings. Beulah, belonging to John C. Bentley of Sandy Spring, president of the association, was placed second and Mabel, the property of Richard F. Spates of Poolesville, was awarded third honors.
Others having dogs in the contest were Clarence Moore, James P. Gott, Clay B. Edwards, Howard Marlowe, Edmund C. Davis, Cecil Althut, Richard Lea and George Edwards.
To the winner went a handsome silver cup, presented by William F. R. Hitt of Washington, and a blue ribbon, to the dog finishing second, a silver medal, also presented by Mr. Hitt, and the red ribbon to the third.

ORATORY IS RULING

Election Campaign in Full Swing in England.

LITTLE GENERAL INTEREST

Number of Uncontested Seats Is Unusually Large.

UNIONIST PROSPECTS BETTER

Enthusiastic Members of Party Hope to Win by From Twenty to Thirty Places.

LONDON, November 21.—The election campaign is in full swing and the country is flooded with oratory and literature. Billboards are covered with cartoons. The public, however, is not showing much interest evidenced in the two previous contests. One effect of the lack of enthusiasm is indicated in the number of uncontested seats. In some of the northern constituencies, where there is no likelihood of a change, the unionists and liberals have agreed not to oppose each other.
In other places the candidates who secured overwhelming majorities last January have been accorded a walk-over. Among the fortunate ones are Joseph Chamberlain, for Birmingham West, and Arthur H. Lee, for Hants, Fareham division.
As the election draws near, the first pollings will take place December 3, the prospects of the unionists improve, and enthusiastic members of the party hope to win by anywhere from twenty to thirty seats. The best opinion, however, is that the unionists will only slightly improve their position and will probably win a few seats in London and north England.

WRECK DELAYS TRAINS.

B. & O. Road Blocked at Orleans Cross Roads.

Special Dispatch to The Star.
CUMBERLAND, Md., November 26.—A wreck occurred on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at Orleans Crossroads, Va., about forty miles east of Cumberland, yesterday, when a west-bound Chicago express No. 6, four hours, and train No. 5, en route to Chicago, reached Cumberland three hours late. A piece of iron bridge-work fell from an east-bound train and a west-bound train ran into it, piling up a number of cars in a wreck and blocking both tracks.

LAUNCH OF THE NEPTUNE.

Big Naval Collier About Ready to Take to the Water.

The giant naval collier Neptune, which the Maryland Steel Company of Baltimore is building, will be launched Saturday, December 3. The Neptune is the largest ship ever built. In the port of Baltimore, having a length over 400 feet, beam of 65 feet and depth of 64 feet, beam of 65 feet and depth of hold of 39 feet 6 inches. She is designed to carry 12,500 tons of coal, in addition to the bunker capacity for her own boilers. When so laden she will draw 27 feet 6 inches of water. Her twin screws will be driven by turbines of the Westinghouse type. The ship will be equipped with special coal-handling machinery, which will enable her to coal warships at sea in the shortest possible time.
Beam for the turbines and the operation of the unloading will be furnished by three double-ended Scotch boilers. By double-ended is meant that they are fired from both ends, instead of from only one, as is the case with common practice, especially on smaller boats.

Bids for Big Battleship.

Bids will be opened by the Navy Department December 1 for the construction of one of the two 30,000-ton battleships authorized at the late session of Congress, and also for two fleet coasters. The other battleship will be constructed at the New York navy yard. It is expected that competition will be even keener for the battleship and collier contracts than it was for the destroyers.
Immanuel Iacoletti of Montclair, N. J., has sailed on the Carmania for his native Naples. He is a brother-in-law of Enrico Caruso and so greatly resembles the tenor that he has been called "Caruso's double." Iacoletti goes to Italy to make his debut in opera.

music came abruptly to an end and the people in the street stood at fault with hands uplifted. Whether he was charged with guano, or perished in a quag, or was removed bodily by the evil one, remains a point of doubt; but the pipe has never again been seen or heard of from that day to this.

TURKEY AND THE TRIPLE ALLIANCE.
From the London Spectator.
Turkey no doubt wants a long period of quiet during her reconstruction, which is a tempting thing to feel that she might have Germany and Austria-Hungary as guarantors of her continued existence. Already intimacy with Germany promises to give her the local command of the sea in the eastern Mediterranean, which has hitherto been held by Greece. Two, if not four, German battleships are about to be added to the Turkish navy. Her power over Crete, too, will be greatly increased. Russia again will have to look carefully to her position in the Black Sea. Greece, will, of course, be more restive than ever under these conditions; she will fear an invasion from the sea as well as an invasion through Thessaly and Epirus. In fine the elements of unrest in the Balkans will probably be increased. We are entirely in sympathy with Turkey in strengthening herself—if she is successful to be the pivot of the Balkans she must do nothing less—but we are very doubtful of the means which seem to be opening before her.

THE SOUTHEASTERN LIMITED.
Conveniences in Connection With New Southern Railway Train.
In inaugurating its southeastern limited today the Southern railway announces several new conveniences. The train will leave and enter New York at the new Pennsylvania station at 7th avenue and 32d street. By the new schedule trains from New York will arrive in Washington at 6:10 p.m. and leave at 6:20 p.m., south-bound, and at 8:53 a.m., leaving at 9:05 a.m. north-bound. On all trains, it is announced, connections will be made at Washington transfer near New York, with local trains to and from downtown New York stations by way of Jersey City. So that downtown passengers may continue to use the Cortlandt and Dearbross street stations and the Hudson Terminal station of the Hudson and Manhattan tubes.

A Holyrood Legend.
From the London Chronicle.
Holyrood Palace, which it is proposed to revive as a royal residence, is the subject of a strange legend. Robert Louis Stevenson alludes to it in his little book on Edinburgh. "There is a silly story," he writes, "of a subterranean passage between the castle and Holyrood, and a bold Highland piper who volunteered to explore its windings. He made his entrance in a continual fever of apprehension; the curious footed it after him down the street, following his descent by the sound of the chanter from below; until all of a sudden, about the level of St. Giles, the and Turkey would become meaningless. Russia would certainly be provoked. Germany if it is believed, or at least still, she eats her husbands (for the insatiable creature sometimes consumes seven or eight running) while they press her passionately to their heart. Her inconceivable kisses devour, not metaphorically, but in an apparently real fashion, the ill-fated choice of her soul or her stomach. She begins with the head, goes down to the thorax and does not stop till she comes to the hind legs, which she seems too tough. She then pushes away the unfortunate remains, while a new lover, who was quietly awaiting the end of the monstrous banquet, heroically comes forward to undergo the same fate.

The Jersey Skeeter.
From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.
"Great Hoboken, look at the size of that Jersey skeeter!"
"Where?"
"Just crossing the river."
"That ain't a skeeter—that's a boy from Hoboken with a homemade dirigible."

The Wise Guy.
From the Cleveland Leader.
"Do you tell me everything?"
"No—only as much as I'm willing the neighbors should know."
